

Statement sent by Lloyds Banking Group to Full Fact

"Lloyds Banking Group has seen an increased level of enquiries from our customers, colleagues and other stakeholders about our plans post the Scottish Referendum on Thursday 18th September."

"While the scale of potential change is currently unclear, we have contingency plans in place which include the establishment of new principal legal entities in England. This is a legal procedure and there would be no immediate changes or issues which could affect our business or our customers."

"There will be a period between the Referendum and the implementation of separation, should a 'yes' vote be successful, that we believe should be sufficient to take any necessary action."

"As a Group we are committed to supporting our customers across Scotland and the rest of UK."
